RESIGNATION

September 27, 2017

Marilyn Eddins
Chief Clerk of the Colorado State House of Representatives
200 E. Colfax, Room 271
Denver, CO 80203

Dear Madame Chief Clerk Eddins:

I write this letter to formally tender my resignation from the Colorado House of Representatives as the House District 26 Representative effective at the close of business on November 2, 2017.

I have been deeply honored to represent the people of Eagle County and Routt County in the Colorado House. However, I am running to represent all the people of Colorado's United States Congressional District 3 in the 2018 election. I cannot do justice to both jobs: being an effective, responsive, transperent full-time legislator for the people of HD26 and running a full-time campaign in the largest US Congressional District in the US that is not an entire state. CD3 covers 29 counties and 54,000 square miles.

I have enjoyed working with you very much. You are the exemplar of the dedicated, expert public servant who is fair to all and really cares about the Colorado House of Representatives.

Likewise, I have deep respect for my colleagues in the Colorado House of Representatives.

The Democratic Party Vacancy Committee for HD26 will convene after you have received this letter to select my replacement for the 2018 Session according to the rules and CRS. I know the new HD26 Representative will work hard and be a great addition to the House.

Thank you for your tireless commitment to good government and to the People's House.

Sincerely yours,
(signed)
Representative Diane Mitsch Bush
Colorado House Distrct 26-all of Eagle and all of Routt Counties

Dear Minority Leader,

Effective immediately I am resigning from the Colorado State House of Representatives - House District 47. It has been my honor and privilege to have served with you and all of my distinguished collegues since 2013. Together, we have fought the good fight, and it is my hope that you and the Republican Caucus will continue your diligent and thoughtful work for the taxpayers of Colorado.

I leave with mixed emotions, but I'm confident I'll be able to continue my work for agriculture and rural America in my next endeavor. I have been appointed to serve in the Trump Administration as the Colorado State Farm Service Agency State Director.

To all of the staff at the Capitol, my fellow Members of the Colorado State Legislature, and especially to those who elected me three times I leave with a full heart of gratitude knowing we have done some good work and we have prevented some bad legislation for Colorado. Please continue to fight for less government, lower taxes, and most of all liberty.

Sincerely,

Representative KC Becker moved that the following remarks of Speaker Duran and Minority Leader Neville be printed in the House Journal. There being no objection the remarks were printed.

Speaker Duran addressed the members of the House of Representatives:

Thank you and welcome to the second regular session of the 71st General Assembly.

2018 is shaping up as another great year for Colorado. Our overall economy continues to grow and our unemployment rate continues to be one of the lowest in the nation.

We continue to attract new jobs, new businesses and new events. Later this month, for the first time, we'll host the Outdoor Retailer Show, one of many tangible rewards for our forward-thinking conservation policies and commitment to public lands. It should be a point of pride for all Coloradans, especially our military veterans, that the Navy's newest attack submarine, to be commissioned in March, is the USS Colorado. But the best news for our veterans is that barring further federal delays our new state-of-the-art VA hospital in Aurora will finally open this summer!

Members, we are gathered here because we believe in service, in the ability to make positive change, in the power of working together to solve complex problems.

And because we love Colorado and what it stands for: Opportunity for all who show responsibility through hard work. A strong sense of community, where people are valued not for their wealth or their connections, but for what they do for others. A spirit of cooperation and inclusiveness. And of course our spectacular vistas and open spaces.

From the golden dome of this building we can see three Fourteeners and one of the most vibrant economies in America. So many people are moving here for the mix of sunshine, scenic beauty and economic opportunity that we call the Colorado way of life.

Our task over the next 120 days is to preserve and enhance our Colorado way of life, which is so different from the discord and dysfunction emanating from Washington DC.

Coloradans are counting on us to stand strong, to be productive, to defy the unsettling trends we've seen elsewhere in America. The eyes of Colorado will be on us, including some special guests who have come to this chamber this morning.

The first Latino speaker of the Colorado House, Ruben Valdez.

The first Latina to serve in the House and Senate of any state legislature, Polly Baca.

Former Lieutenant Governor Gail Schoettler.

Denver DA and former representative Beth McCann.

Former representatives Fran Coleman, Su Schafer, Rosemary Marshall and Roger Wilson.

We also welcome two new members, Representative Dylan Roberts of Eagle County and Representative Judy Reyher [rye-er] of Otero County.

Representative Roberts is now the youngest member of the General Assembly, part of a new generation of leaders. If he is a glimpse of the future, our future is bright.

The two of you have joined a group of legislators who have shown that through respectful dialogue and inclusiveness we can turn our wide range of experiences and perspectives into policy that truly benefits the people of our state.

We can point with pride to what we achieved for Coloradans in the 2017 session, which was widely acclaimed as the most productive in recent memory.

We proved that we don't just talk about not being like Washington DC. We proved by our actions that here in Colorado, we can work together to get things done.

After years of effort, we made a bipartisan breakthrough on a budget restructure called the hospital provider fee. Fixing it saved hospitals around the state from more than half a billion dollars in budget cuts. Those cuts would have impacted every hospital in the state, and would have been fatal to some of our smaller hospitals in rural areas of Colorado.

Last session I visited Lincoln Community Hospital in the Eastern Plains town of Hugo. I saw firsthand how essential our rural hospitals are. They are the nursing home, family clinic, ambulance service and sometimes hospice care for their communities.

Rural hospitals saved Edward Humphrey. Aside from serving in the Korean War, Ed has lived on the Eastern Plains all his life. He met his wife, Barbara, when he was a hired hand threshing corn for Barbara's grandparents. He went on to work as a Colorado brand inspector for two decades.

Last Friday they celebrated their 67th wedding anniversary.

If not for Lincoln Community Hospital, Ed might not have been around to mark two-thirds of a century of marriage.

In 2016, he experienced life-threatening complications following surgery. But the doctors at Lincoln Community pulled him through.

Barbara Humphrey said, "I can breathe easier knowing that Lincoln Community Hospital is open and remains open. Because of the budget restructure, Lincoln Community Hospital continues to save lives every day."

Konnie and Kevin are from rural hospitals that would have been jeopardized by that half a billion in budget cuts.

Working together for families like the Humphreys, we prevented that.

To Konnie and Kevin, and to all our rural hospitals across the state, thank you for the lives you save and for the rural way of life that your care helps to preserve.

The same bill that saved rural hospitals freed up an additional 100 million dollars that are being used to leverage 1.9 billion dollars in new transportation projects around the state.

From Johnstown to the Four Corners, from Rifle to Pueblo, you will see investments in transportation infrastructure from this important bill. Some of the most significant improvements will be felt on our interstate highways.

Our bipartisan legislation allows us to fund projects to relieve pressure on I-25 and I-70, as well as many other locally controlled projects.

Mike Hillman is mayor of Idaho Springs, one of many Colorado communities where I-70 is a lifeline. He knows the importance of mobility to commerce, to law enforcement, to emergency services, to our Colorado way of life. He knows that a single pothole on Floyd Hill can hurt sales in Idaho Springs. In fact, it happened just a couple of weeks ago.

Mayor Hillman has seen the effects of improvements to I-70, and he is looking forward to more projects funded by the hospital provider fee fix. Mayor Hillman, thank you for joining us today!

In 2017 we also resolved a thorny issue that we hope will help address our housing needs by spurring more condo development.
Our bipartisan legislation will help Colorado homeowners make informed decisions about construction defect claims while ensuring their ability to protect what for most of them is their single biggest investment -- their homes.

Our goal is to restore some balance to the real estate market and ease a housing crunch that has made home ownership unattainable for too many Coloradans.

This bill passed the General Assembly by a combined vote of 97 to 0. For what we can achieve when we check our egos at the door, roll up our sleeves and hammer out bipartisan solutions to problems facing Coloradans, I can think of no finer example than construction defects.

Well, maybe except equity in school funding.

Because of our work together last year, Colorado is the first state in the nation to fully address equitable local funding for all public school students.

In the 2018 session and beyond we must keep striving to eradicate the race- and income-related disparities that continue to exist in Colorado's schools. The legislation we passed in 2017 prioritizes funding for Colorado kids who have been historically underserved, regardless of the type of school they attend.

It strikes a balance that maintains local control for school districts, ensures that funding is allocated based on student need, and creates greater transparency and accountability for charter schools.

Hospital funding, transportation investment, construction defects and school funding equity – these are issues that have vexed this legislature for decades. Tearing down roadblocks on these issues gave us some powerful momentum heading into the interim.

But today, we start this session with a different set of obstacles.

The most disturbing are the allegations of workplace harassment that have swept across the country, reaching into the entertainment industry, news organizations, Congress and more than a dozen state legislatures.

Including ours.

We must confront these issues head on and successfully reform the culture of the Capitol.

There is no place for harassment, hate speech or discrimination in this chamber.

As we begin to make changes here at the Capitol, each and every member of this body has a personal responsibility to do our part to create a safe and respectful workplace for all.

We must also reauthorize the Colorado Civil Rights Division, which protects Coloradans' freedom from discrimination based on age, race, gender, sexual orientation, disability, pregnancy, religion and ancestry.

And we can't stop there.
The time for cultural change is now.

There should be no double standard requiring women and people from underrepresented communities to feel that they have to work twice as hard and be twice as smart to make partner at their law firm, climb the corporate ladder or succeed in public service.

It is not lost on me that there are women in restaurants and hotels, immigrants in meatpacking plants and workers in factories who feel they must endure inappropriate behavior just to survive and feed their families.

Throughout my time in the legislature I have worked to encourage more women and people from underrepresented communities to enter public service. This work will be for naught unless we promote work environments where the arc of your career is determined by your hard work, qualifications, merit and skill.

The hurdles of harassment and discrimination faced by women, people of color and people with disabilities should have been leveled a long time ago, but it is crystal clear that these challenges persist today.

People in our country are speaking out like never before about harassment, sexism and discrimination.

Let our actions show that the intolerable will be tolerated no more.

On this and many other topics, it is imperative that we do the job we were sent here to do – to solve problems for Coloradans.

We have plenty of opportunities and plenty of challenges.

Members, Colorado's population is growing by more than 180 people per day.

Some of the legislation we've passed in recent years has helped us absorb this influx.

We have promoted economic development and workforce development programs so that more Coloradans have the education and training they need to get the high-skill, high-tech jobs that our economy is now producing in great numbers.

Colorado overall has one of the strongest state economies in America. That's wonderful because it means lots of opportunities for people in our state. But there are downsides.

Wages aren't rising as fast as the overall economy. And the economy isn't booming in every community in the state. Many areas of rural and small-town Colorado are treading water, or even drowning.

We need to ensure that communities outside the Front Range have the tools to compete in a global economy by providing more broadband service, more teachers and more medical services, just for starters.

And because getting to and from work shouldn't be the hardest part of Coloradans' daily routine, we have to repair and improve our overburdened roads and expand our transportation options to keep up with our growing population and economy.

Forecasts for the next budget indicate that state revenue is substantially exceeding previous estimates, giving us the ability to make new investments in key statewide priorities.

Let me be clear: transportation funding is a priority.
Our Colorado students are also a priority.
We will have the opportunity to address chronically low funding for K-12 and higher education.
During this session we will be reviewing every part of the state budget to assure that it balances the priorities and needs of the people of Colorado.
Growth has also driven up the cost of housing in many areas of Colorado. The American Dream includes being able to own a home.

For more and more middle-income Coloradans, and not just in the Denver area, home ownership is out of reach.

Many people feel like they are being pushed out of the very communities they grew up in.

And rent increases make it harder and harder to make ends meet.
We need to take action to make renting more affordable and homeownership more attainable for Coloradans.
As we work together this session, we will also hear bipartisan proposals to allow more judicial discretion in criminal sentencing and to make evidence-based reforms that would make our criminal justice system more effective and save taxpayer dollars, while promoting public safety.
To confront an opioid epidemic raging across Colorado and the nation, we are bringing a package of bills to improve training for safe opioid prescribing and overdose prevention and increase access to residential and medication-assisted treatment, so that people who are struggling with substance use disorders have more tools to fight their addiction.
Lawmakers and public health officials, first responders and law enforcement will help us to defeat opioid addiction.
And make no mistake: The pharmaceutical companies that developed these wildly addictive and highly profitable drugs need to be a part of the solution as well.
No family is immune to addiction, including my own. In November I lost my cousin Juan at the young age of 40. He was smart and thoughtful and he loved to laugh and joke around. Some of my favorite memories are of camping with him or fishing together on my Grandpa's boat on the Pueblo Reservoir. But for much of his life he struggled with substance abuse – alcohol and opioids.

Families across Colorado, including in this chamber, have heartbreaking stories of friends and relatives who have suffered from addiction. My thoughts and prayers are very much with all who have been touched by this epidemic. It is our responsibility to come together to tackle this issue.

Hard-working Coloradans deserve a secure retirement, but almost half of Coloradans have no employer-sponsored or personal retirement plan. We will see a bill this session to increase access to retirement plans for our friends and neighbors who have none.

A secure retirement must also be attainable for the 560,000 current or retired public servants – teachers who have taught us and our children, state troopers who have patrolled our highways and CDOT drivers who have plowed them – all those who have delivered essential services to the people of our state.

Steps must be taken to strengthen PERA, the state pension fund, to ensure that we honor the commitment we've made to our state and public-sector employees.

But it would be unfair to balance PERA solely on the backs of hard-working public servants. Likewise, slashing cost-of-living adjustments for retired state employees could put many of them deeper in the hole every time the cost of living rises. ?Our goals must include a PERA solution that ensures its long-term solvency while being fair to current employees and retirees.
We'll also consider a variety of proposals to help Coloradans balance the responsibilities of their work and their families.
We can increase access to affordable child care, so fewer Colorado moms and dads are forced to choose between keeping a job or staying at home.
This isn't just an issue for families. It's an issue that impacts our entire economy.
We can improve family leave laws so more Coloradans can take paid time off to care for a sick parent or loved one without having to quit their jobs, or risk being fired.
We can also address the high cost of health care, especially in rural areas of Colorado where premiums are through the roof.

And we can provide additional protections to Colorado consumers.

For example, because corporations dictate the "fine print," Coloradans sign away their rights almost every time they buy a product or service. When something goes wrong, irresponsible corporations need to be held accountable and consumers deserve fair processes that are not tilted against them.
Our legislative compass points us in one direction -- preserving and enhancing our esteemed Colorado way of life.

Our state is blessed with the most beautiful natural environment in America. We must also have a government that works for everyone who works hard, not just the deep-pocketed and the well-connected.

A government that creates more opportunities for Coloradans to turn their hard work into economic security.

Members, our contribution to the greater good will increase every time we move toward giving all Coloradans who work hard the best possible chance to succeed.

Our solutions must be based not on party or politics, but on what will get Coloradans closer to achieving their dreams.

Now is not the time to rest on the triumphs of our 2017 session.

We have plenty more work to do on behalf of the Coloradans who sent us here.

We live in uncertain times. Sometimes it feels like our country is being pulled apart and that the very worst is bubbling up through the cracks.

But not in Colorado. And not in this chamber, where we must be a barrier to the forces of division.

We have always had our disagreements, and sometimes we cannot reconcile them. But most of the time we find our way to that most essential of Colorado values -- setting our differences aside to make real progress.

In those moments we find the best in ourselves by living up to what's best about our state.

There's still more that binds us together than will ever divide us.

That's what we did last year, and I know it's what we'll do again this year.

It has been the honor of my life to serve as Colorado's first Latina Speaker of the House and the only Latina speaker in the country.

I'm excited to resume our quest to make our Colorado way of life even richer in opportunity – fairer in how it rewards hard work – steadfast in demanding personal and corporate responsibility – and generous in fostering the freedom to succeed.

God bless our home -- Colorado and its people.

And members, let us never forget that we are their servants.

Thank you.

Madam Speaker, Madam Majority Leader, esteemed colleagues and honored guests: Welcome to the second regular session of the 71st General Assembly. I'd like to congratulate the newest members, Representatives Reyher and Roberts: Welcome to the pit…I mean chamber, to the chamber! DILLY DILLY. I believe I can speak for everyone in this room when I say that serving in the legislature is a truly unique experience; we look forward to working with you.

I would also like to take a moment to recognize the friends and family here whose support is so valuable to us all. As members, we are well aware of the personal sacrifice of time and energy this job requires, but our families also make sacrifices to support us and enable us to be successful. I want to personally thank my wife Kristi, and my daughters Mary Katelyn, Hannah and Lydia. Thank you for your support, I could not do this without you; I would not do this without you. Madam Speaker, Madam Majority Leader, if you think you I am difficult to deal with just remember my wife has had to put up with me since High School. Let's give another round of applause to our family members here in attendance.

I want to take a moment to thank other members of executive committee for their work to revise the capitol's sexual harassment policies. The state capitol has always been a distinguished place to work, and it should also be a welcoming and safe place for everyone. I perfectly understand and share a sense of outrage when we hear stories of bad behavior, but when accusations appear where the law is made, we must observe due process so that we fairly and objectively handle complaints and workplace issues. The new policies we have adopted and the additional HR resources we are providing will help ensure future issues are handled appropriately. My door is always open to anyone who might want to report an issue that makes working here problematic.

House Sessions during election years are always more politically charged than off-year sessions. It's especially true this year given the high-profile statewide elections and the many candidates for those offices here today. I know several of you in this room are vying for positions that will influence the direction of our state as a whole. That said, and knowing how strongly I feel about serving Colorado, I think this is the best time to announce that … I too am throwing my name in for …… more road funding and government efficiency.

In all seriousness, the citizens of Colorado have elected us to solve various problems facing our state. And while we all know politics plays a role in the process, for the next 120 days our job is to focus on legislation to improve the lives of the citizens of our State. When we work together – as we did hundreds of times last year – we can meet that goal in spite of our political differences.

I read an interesting story the other day. The backdrop to the story involved the number of people coming to Colorado. Who can blame them?

But the story itself was about the large number of people leaving Colorado because Colorado is no longer affordable. Leaving because they see hours of their lives wasted in traffic. Leaving because the costs of home, auto and health insurance have soared. Leaving because all the beauty and adventure they came here to enjoy has been tainted by rising prices and stress. These issues are no different for those who've spent their whole lives here.

We want to make Colorado affordable. We want to make Colorado affordable and enjoyable again by the actions we take as legislators this session when it comes to: prioritizing funding for cleaner, safer roads and bridges; lowering the regulatory barriers that businesses, and especially new businesses encounter; enabling students and teachers to find success in education; legalizing affordable health insurance plans and providing consumer choice; we aim to do this while insuring our human rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness continue to be recognized.

It costs a lot to live here, and costs have gone up. Having grown up on the Front Range, started a family and worked in a small business, I have witnessed with some dismay the rapid increase in the cost of living in Colorado. I am sure all of you can attest to this as well.

During the interim, Assistant Minority Leader Cole Wist and I, along with some other members, toured many parts of Colorado and took time to learn about some of the issues contributing to higher costs.

For example: we visited the Colorado National Speedway in Dacono and heard how new mandates and regulations are threatening the low-cost entertainment that thousands of families enjoy there; elsewhere we heard from small rural communities that are concerned about the lack of new housing and infrastructure; while visiting a visionary health care provider in Pueblo, we learned about a state computer program that is delaying critical Medicaid reimbursement payments to hospitals and providers; a recent study I saw found that a first-year teacher cannot afford to rent even a 1 bedroom apartment in four of the largest districts in our state.

The cost to buy or rent a home has increased by more than 100 percent over the last 10 years, the costs of auto, home and health insurance have increased exponentially, and the increasing cost of doing business is typically passed on to the consumer. The drip, drip, drip of paying for basic needs is draining people of the optimism and hope that should be natural for residents of this great state.

I raise these points because many of the laws we will debate this session could directly impact Colorado's affordability. Government programs bring with them the baggage of unintended consequences.

Just as it's possible for a person to bleed to death from a thousand small cuts, so it's possible for a state to become unaffordable by a thousand small regulations.

At a time when our national economy is beginning to gain momentum and return to health, we must be very careful about adding new regulatory and legal burdens to our citizens; instead, we should work together to make our state affordable again. In this, we have a choice to make.

As Assistant Minority Leader Wist and I traveled this summer, we were regularly asked about the poor shape of our roads, the lack of lane miles, and the lack of funding for Colorado's aging infrastructure. My response was as simple then as it is today: "we have enough money to fix our problems. We don't have a revenue problem, we have a spending problem.

A few weeks ago the revenue forecast indicated we will have almost a Billion dollars more revenue than expected for fiscal year 2018-19. There is no reason why nearly all of this new revenue should not go to widening highways, adding lane miles throughout the state and rebuilding traditional infrastructure.

We believe we can build newer, safer roads and bridges without raising taxes. If we can fix a problem that will make Colorado a more affordable and enjoyable place to live, why not do that? Why make Colorado even less affordable by imposing a new tax for 'transportation'?

And while I'm on the topic of transportation, let me clarify something for those listening. In the past, when we used the word "transportation", we understood, and most people understood, the word meant 'roads and bridges'. Most Coloradans say better 'roads' should be a priority for the legislature, and when they hear us talking about 'transportation', they assume we're talking about 'roads'.

Unfortunately, that assumption is no longer true. As of last year, "transportation" doesn't mean simply 'roads and bridges'; instead, it now means "state tax dollars for buses, light rail, heavier rail, bike paths and special lanes for pogo sticks and the like." The point is, I now use the phrase 'roads and bridges' because I want voters to know what I mean, and to understand where our priorities lie.

Members of our caucus will be carrying a bill that will fix our roads, without raising taxes. It will be a perfect opportunity to show our constituencies exactly where roads rank as a priority. I can tell you right now roads are my top priority. Is it yours?

I know some of you may doubt we can prioritize existing revenue for roads. Some may ask what we are willing to cut. But members, this is not Washington D.C., and decreasing the governor's proposed increases is not a cut.

To everyone listening: we can fix our roads and fund essential state services with existing revenue. Members, the Governor's budget proposal is $1.09 billion larger than last year, and $10 billion larger than 2009 when Governor Hickenlooper first took office. And we've just come into an additional $1 billion in revenue. My question to the members in this room who think we need more from the taxpayers is this: "how much is enough"?

Recent news reports suggest that my colleagues across the aisle are already looking at the "many unmet needs" in our state. As the saying goes, 'when all you have is a hammer, every problem looks like a nail' … and when you're committed to a big and bigger government, every problem calls for more taxes, programs, and spending.

But if you think like me, we don't need more revenue – we need more restraint; we need more common sense when it comes how we spend taxpayers' money. In this, we certainly have a choice to make.

Concerning Education … Not only are we obliged by the state constitution to pass a balanced budget every year, we're also required to provide money for a public education. And the fact is, we've provided a lot: over the past 12 years, total spending has gone from $3.8 billion a year to $5.6 billion a year, an increase of 45 percent; General fund spending on K-12 education has gone from $2.9 billion a year to $4.1 billion, an increase of 42 percent; even factoring in inflation, we're spending 24 percent more money than we were a dozen years ago: and what are we getting for the money?

We've spent a great fortune on K-12 education, but we haven't gotten a great result. The time has come for us to have an open mind to new approaches to education because it is obvious, that what we've been doing isn't working.

Instead of spending that fortune to empower bureaucracies, why don't we try to empower students and parents?

One of the biggest accomplishments from last session was establishing equity for funding charter schools. I want to thank all of the members who helped craft that law. We will work with Democrats on any bill that offers real hope for educational success.

Nobody wins when children lose. We can do better. In this, we have a choice to make.

In the land of the free and the home of the brave, there's a deep well of compassion for those who may have fallen on hard times. At present, taxpayers in the state of Colorado along with other American taxpayers make a gift worth several thousand dollars a year available to these people in the form of Medicaid.

We don't begrudge them for our help, yet while it is free or nearly free to recipients, it isn't cheap: in fiscal year 2004-05 we spent $3 billion on healthcare; in fiscal year 2016-17 – just a dozen years later – we spent $9 billion – a 300 percent increase; General Fund spending on health care increased 111 percent in that period.

Today just over a quarter of the people living in our state are on Medicaid. Since 2008-09, that figure has risen 220 percent. But studies demonstrate that Medicaid is not a particularly efficient or effective way to distribute health care; to be sure, the most significant changes to the system must happen in Washington, but it is our goal, our ambition, to insure that those who need Medicaid get it, while we also insure that it is reserved for the truly needy.

Our hope is that as our economy grows, and good jobs become more plentiful, people will get health care at work or that we, as a legislature work to legalize affordable insurance plans that citizens freely select. Improving this system means progress in the quest to make Colorado more affordable.

In the wake of recent tragedies in our nation, some people have renewed their demands for stricter gun control. Members, gun control becomes the focus because guns are the tools evil people have used to commit the atrocities. But guns are simply that, a tool, and just as they can be used for evil, they are tools in the hands of good people to defend themselves. New laws will not prevent evil people from acquiring guns nor will they prevent further crimes against the innocent. Rather they will rob the innocent of the ability to defend themselves and their families.

This session, I urge you not to accept the misguided dogma that gun control laws will stop mass killings. For those who disagree, let me share an experience that demonstrated this dark reality. As a veteran who served in Iraq, I can tell you the frequency of mass killings during my time there was shocking. We fought an enemy that valued no life, and sought to harm and destroy by any means possible. Sadly, no amount of gun control would have saved lives, what evil lacked in guns it made up for in other forms of destruction. It was evil, finding any way available to hurt society. That evil exists everywhere, sadly even in our own communities. We need to ensure citizens have every means possible to fight back, and protect innocent life.

Members, our Constitutional rights are what define this nation and our state. We have the right to free speech, the right to freely exercise our religion, but above all we have the right to life. Without it, "liberty" and "the pursuit of happiness" are empty slogans. The American people are increasingly 'pro-life', in no small measure because of the science that enables us to watch the development of the unborn. I pray this enlightened attitude makes its way to the Capitol. This issue of life shouldn't be political, but until it's not, I'll work to defend the right to life for the youngest, and the oldest, among us.

Another element in our drive to make Colorado more affordable is changes we'll propose to the budget process we use here at the Capitol.

Our current process allows each chamber less than a week to complete the most constitutionally important task of the session. We are the only state that compiles a budget this way, and while it might have been the right approach at one time, we believe it is time to reevaluate the process.

Our friends on the other side will undoubtedly be happy to know that the changes we're proposing are non-partisan in nature. We've already had several helpful conversations along those lines.

I won't go into great detail here, but suffice to say the details rest on two basic and related principles. We believe that the 6 members of the Joint Budget Committee are in many ways model legislators. Representatives Rankin, Hamner and Young devote significant time to the job. All of us here recognize that for them, public service translates into personal sacrifice as they labor untold hours to help us all. But our overreliance on the few is robbing us of the wisdom of the many. We would like to see more people involved in the process.

We want to plan ahead and require forecasts from each department. No major expense or upgrade should be a surprise to us, we should know years in advance. I look forward to more conversations with all of you on this topic.

Members, this session we have a choice to make. Are we going to choose to let our state government continue to expand at the expense of industry, commerce, and liberty, or are we going to look for ways to help lower the cost of doing business in Colorado, let the free market inspire more innovation, and find ways to make Colorado affordable again? Do we move forward with policies and oversight that will make Colorado more affordable, or do we simply advocate for higher taxes and more spending? Will we plant fiscal bombs into our budget in the form of costly new programs that will burden us and our children for decades, and put us on the road to bankruptcy and chaos already forged by states like California and Illinois? We've tried the bigger government approach, and it doesn't work. It creates more inequality, more dependence, and more social division. Will we choose to prioritize funding to make a significant step toward safer, cleaner roads and bridges, or will we ask for higher taxes or fees to fund mass transit that cannot pay for itself?

Members, we proved last session that we can put our differences aside, work together, and get things done for the people of our great state. Let's build on that progress and make this another successful year for the people of Colorado.

Thank you and God bless.

House in recess. House reconvened.

ADDRESS BY THE HONORABLE
John Hickenlooper

- My hard-working cabinet and staff

And, of course, to my amazing wife Robin, who couldn't be here today

To my incredible son, Teddy, and to all of my fellow Coloradans:

We have so much to be thankful for.

We thank our veterans and active service members and their families for their courage and sacrifice to the cause of freedom.

We thank the members of the Colorado National Guard, more than six-hundred of whom were deployed overseas last year.

We thank our Department of Public Safety, along with local first responders, who accept the daily dangers of their work ...as routine.

We mourn alongside the families of those we've lost:

Deputy Sheriff Zack Parrish.

Firefighters Mike Freeman, Brett Anderson and Lieutenant Jim Schaefer.

We're here, as public servants, to make this place we love, stay a place we love; a place we can be proud of.

That's called Topophilia — it's our love of place...and reflects our love of Colorado.

If you've seen a sunrise over the plains…drank a cold beer after a day of hunting...or consider "Rocktober" a real month...you've experienced it.

Heck, it was a carriage ride up Pikes Peak that inspired Katharine Bates to write America the Beautiful.

She later wrote:

"We stood at last on that Gate-of-Heaven summit...and gazed in wordless rapture over the far expanse of mountain ranges...and the sea-like sweep of plain."

This love of place...colors everything we do.

We are a community thousands of years in the making...

Starting with the Paleo-Indians, followed by more recent inhabitants including the Arapaho and Cheyenne...and Utes.

Renewed by the first Hispanic settlers...the hopes of the 59ers...the coal-stained faces of the next pioneers...and the sweat of those who built train tracks...bridges...and tunnels...and stayed to start families and build communities.

It was the Germans, Japanese and Irish...immigrants from countless countries who planted the seeds of entrepreneurship.

And our immigrants today who continue to harvest those seeds.

As President Reagan said about the shining city on the hill: "the doors were open to anyone with the will and the heart to get there."

Popular culture has tried to sell us a tall tale that Colorado's history is only about rugged individualism and conflict.

But cooperation has always been the defining part of our DNA.

Trappers used to go out in packs of ten or twenty because teamwork was safer and more productive.

There were a lot more barn raisings than there were shootouts.

Mountain residents at the turn of the century would leave their cabins unlocked and stocked with food in case a weary traveler in the area hit a storm.

Those travelers were honor-bound to clean the cabin and restock it later.

Sometimes in this building we stray from this Colorado way.

We don't always restock the cabin. We don't always listen.

Issues can get tangled in a web of special interests.

Trust in our government, at every level, is a critical part of love of place.

Not that our mountains and plains aren't a big part of our communal affection, and sports teams as well.

But I believe love of place is a key ingredient of most economic development.

And people aren't eager to make the investments that all prosperity demands, if they don't trust the people who lead them, and trust that those leaders will work together.

In this past legislative session, we did just that.

We finally fixed the Hospital Provider Fee.

We now have a little more sanity in our budget.

And hospitals in rural Colorado that would have closed, continue to serve thousands of patients.

Jennifer Riley, an executive at Memorial Regional Health in Craig, told us, "You helped keep our doors open. Thank you."

Last year, we reformed construction defects. And slowly, we're building more condos.

We delivered a modest deposit on our broadband initiative.

And today, a high-schooler in Julesburg is taking remote business classes so perhaps one day he can start his own company.

For the first time we used marijuana taxes for a homeless initiative. We helped people save their own lives.

Last year wasn't always pretty…progress isn't always painless…

But it was the most impactful, bipartisan legislative session since the great recession.

We reminded everyone: the collaborative Colorado way is the best way.

When we're frustrated, we listen harder. When we're stumped, we turn to facts and data.

We try to bring the best ideas to the table.

We don't define ourselves by those who oppose us. As any restaurateur knows, there's no margin in having enemies.

That's basically our slogan.

And I'm grateful to have been your friend these last seven years.

Most of the time.

If you haven't lived in Colorado long, you might be tempted to think that the state you see today was inevitable.
But when we first met in this room, our economy was in disarray. We had just ended the worst year for job seekers in generations:

- We were twenty-sixth in unemployment and fortieth in job growth;
- Nearly 400,000 Coloradans were unemployed or underemployed;
- And tens of thousands more had dropped out of the workforce.

So we did what Coloradans do. We rolled up our sleeves and got to work. We hosted fifty meetings and took comments from more than thirteen thousand people in all sixty-four counties.

Coloradans told us what they needed to shape their communities across the state from the bottom up.

With this input, we created a new blueprint for a new economy.

We cut red tape;promoted the state not just to tourists, but as a pro business destination for aspiring entrepreneurs; championed innovation and technology; and made it easier for small-businesses to get a loan.

The Colorado Blueprint made it easier for people to create and grow their own businesses, and helped make Colorado a place that loves entrepreneurs.

By almost any measure, we've become one of the best places for business in America.

We're one of the most active and healthiest, one of the best states to raise a family and make a living.

We shattered unemployment records, tourism records, and hosted world-class cultural and music events.

The state has become a bridge between nonprofits and the private sector. We've leveraged a quarter of a billion dollars through public-private partnerships for community initiatives that have touched millions of lives.

We're putting our faith in people like seven-year old Ashley Scott from Colorado Springs. Two years ago, she started a holiday benefit and purchased blankets, socks and gloves for the homeless. This past year, she partnered with twenty businesses, her school, and the community to do even more.

She said "doing this makes me feel happy...the homeless need a Merry Christmas, too."

Ashley: we're grateful for you. Please stand.

It's a shame you're not twenty-three years older. You could run for governor!

Everyone else is doing it.

We've swelled our ranks in health care with 600,000 more enrollees while prioritizing value.

We lifted families out of poverty with a focus on two-generation solutions.

Our family planning initiative has helped reduce the abortion rate among teens in Colorado by sixty-four percent.

We've become the leading state for aerospace employment…

When our cyber security center reaches full capacity, we'll have thousands of people a year getting certificates.

We were the first state to legalize recreational marijuana while creating a roadmap for other states.

By the way -- we're not wild about Washington telling us what's best for us. We expect the federal government will respect the will of Colorado voters.

We charted our trails, expanded broadband to almost one-hundred thousand rural homes, lured countless businesses large and small...and revitalized dozens of main streets.

We provided wraparound services for thousands of people -- like Sarah Middlebrooks, who completed the Fort Lyon program...found permanent housing...and now maintains her own small business while pursuing her associate's degree.

She couldn't make it because of an accident over the weekend. Sarah if you're watching, we wish you a speedy recovery.

We created the country's first and best methane regulations; a water plan that secures food production; protected the sage grouse from being listed as an endangered species; and developed an electric vehicle infrastructure spanning seven thousand miles.

We cut or modified almost half of our rules and regulations. And in doing so, saved businesses nearly eight million dollars and over two million hours last year alone.

Two million hours!

And we measured our progress on everything that matters.

We trained thousands of employees who completed six-hundred LEAN process improvements...created more value for Coloradans and won several awards. We're one of the most innovative and transparent state governments in America.

My mother used to say: "use it up, wear it out, make it do, or do without!"

Those are pretty good words for a state to live by.
Along the journey, our spirit was tested by floods and fires and inexplicable loss.

On the other side of these tests, we became stronger.

By nearly every measure, Colorado is perhaps stronger now than at any point in history.

Our economy is ten times more diverse than when I was laid off in 1986. We developed a well-deserved reputation for innovation...and welcomed the several hundred thousand "pilgrims" who have moved here from elsewhere, allowing them to experience, firsthand, just why we love this place so much.

This is an era for the record books.

But we can't rest on our laurels.

As one farmer told me "in Colorado, you can be a rainfall away from a record crop, but a hailstorm away from losing it all."

So we will not let up. We won't stop to enjoy the view. We have a lot to accomplish in the next 119 days:

- We need to find the right solution to PERA's unfunded liability.
- We need to pass legislation to safely cap orphan wells.
- We need to halt the opioid epidemic that continues to destroy lives and families, and disproportionately affects our rural communities.
- We need to enact a K-12 and Infrastructure Funding Plan...
- ...that will help make the Water Plan a reality.
- We need legislation and funds to ensure full broadband buildout in rural areas.
- And we need to protect our rural communities by addressing the intense, negative impact the Gallagher amendment has had, and will have, in the future.

It's a commonsense agenda.

And it's an opportunity for us to continue showing the country how it's done...that politics need not be a blood sport...that we need not wage war between the "blue team" and the "red team"...and that dedicated and caring people – even those who may disagree at times – can still achieve important goals together.

It's also an opportunity to recommit ourselves to honor and respect our colleagues and uphold the dignity of our offices. Let's pledge here and now that we will not tolerate sexual harassment in Colorado.

In the early hours of the last century…Theodore Roosevelt said of the United States:

"It should be the growing nation with a future that takes the long look ahead."

Let's take a long look...and think together about the kind of place Colorado must become so that we can pass our love of place onto the next generation.

Today, more Coloradans are working than ever before.
The Colorado secret is out, our in-migration to the front range is the envy of the nation.

But our rural areas are not experiencing the same boom.

We need to create the right ecosystem.

It's like the bristlecone pine, unique to the West. It lives in a harsh but stunning high altitude environment...the perfect conditions for it to thrive.

It may grow more slowly than the spruce, but it is sturdy...resilient...and yes...beautiful.
Most people in rural areas are filled with a love of place. I had lunch with fourteen Future Farmers of America almost a year ago. I asked these young adults how many would choose to return to their small hometowns if they could make a living. Every hand went up. But one young woman later noted, "If I came back with someone I loved, they'd need a job too."

We need more good jobs in rural Colorado.

Many outdoor recreation and manufacturing companies...sports enthusiasts and adventurers from around the world...seek out dynamic rural areas.

And that's great.

But some of our best entrepreneurs are already in rural communities.

Seven years ago, Robert Graves, a fourth-generation dairy farmer in Bellvue CO, started making an Australian style yogurt...which you can now buy in all fifty states. Noosa yogurt is in all 50 states and has annual revenues of over two-hundred million dollars.

Robert, thank you for joining us.

But to reinvigorate more of our smaller communities, we need to incentivize companies and rural entrepreneurs...or the urban ones who want to be rural...to take a chance and start a business where they're needed the most.

That's why we just announced a ten-million dollar Rural Venture Fund to focus equity investment and access to capital in rural parts of the state...similar to what they've done along the front range.

Startup Colorado is a five-year initiative to organize and convene startups around the state...supported by Brad Feld and other top entrepreneurial leaders.

We're expanding our Blueprint and Rural Jumpstart economic development programs.

Maybe we need to expand the Jumpstart incentive to seven years?

We're backstopping loans for rural markets that allow businesses and startups to get more access to capital...maybe we should do more?

We need to make it easier for anyone to love any part of Colorado and start a business here.

Companies need affordable, quality health care.

We have some of the most expensive counties for health care in the country...and fourteen counties only have one option on the exchange – all of them are in rural areas.

We need our friends in Washington to finally move past the tired fight over the Affordable Care Act. It's not perfect, and we need to strengthen it in lots of ways -- but it has helped reduce our uninsured rate by half. 600,000 Coloradans -- many from rural parts of the state -- now have coverage who didn't before. It has helped save lives.

However, we all can agree that America spends too much on healthcare and gets too little for it.

This is an economic argument as much as a health related one.

The year before the Affordable Care Act, two-thirds of bankruptcies were caused by medical debt...that's over 100,000 individuals and families! -- a disproportionate number in rural areas.

The following year, the ACA helped reduce that number by sixty percent. More than 60,000 families...didn't go through the trauma of bankruptcy.
When we're secure in our health care, we're more likely to take a chance and start a business.

Every economist and anyone with a smartphone would agree: our economy is undergoing tectonic shifts with the acceleration of automation and artificial intelligence.

Yet today, in almost every part of Colorado, zip code still determines your educational outcome.

And that determines your economic outcome. This needs to change.

We re-convened the Education Leadership Council to build a long-term vision and path forward. It's nonpartisan and comprehensive, with a focus on the building blocks of a child's success from early childhood to workforce and beyond.

We're pumping an additional one hundred million dollars above enrollment and inflation into our schools this year, and adding ten million dollars to address teacher shortages in rural areas.

We also proposed repeating this year's thirty million dollars to rural schools next year.

Even with these increases, we remain roughly three quarters of a billion dollars behind the funding Colorado voters placed in our constitution nearly two decades ago.

We need to be honest with ourselves and the voters...this number won't go down much without their help. And if we are being really blunt, it hurts rural Colorado more than the front range.

But to create the kind of workforce that will keep our state at the forefront of the new economy, we need to go beyond the funding issue – we need to rethink and retool our approach. We need to transition from a degree-based education system to one that also includes skill-based training.

Experts tell us over sixty percent of our kids in school today will not get a 4-year degree.

Careers and professions by the dozens will be swept away in the coming decades.

But new industries will emerge at an equally frantic rate. We will need not just engineers but huge numbers of technicians and analysts with new sets of skills.

We need to get more kids learning skills that matter.

We need to do it yesterday.

That's why we're working with the state board of education to expose more students to coding in middle and high school.

Why not give those schools with a foreign language requirement the choice to offer coding as an alternative language?

But let's not fall into the trap of instituting a bunch of coding classes and thinking we've solved the problem.

We need flexible solutions that can adapt to what employers need tomorrow, not just what they need today.

This means training and apprenticeships.

Working closely with business and education leaders, in a public-private partnership, Colorado is igniting an apprenticeship renaissance with Careerwise.

We're connecting companies, talent, K-12 schools, community colleges and training centers. We have youth apprentices in pilot programs at thirty-one schools in four districts and we're partnering with forty businesses.

This isn't your grandparents' version of apprenticeship.

This is on-the-job, skills-training in industries, like business operations, health care, and advanced manufacturing.

Within a decade we want to see twenty-thousand students per year receiving college credit, developing skills, and learning how business works.

Apprenticeships are designed to grow hand in glove with Skillful, a digital platform, developed with LinkedIn and the Markle Foundation, that will help connect job seekers and employers in this new economy.

Last summer, Microsoft Philanthropies announced a twenty-six million dollar investment in Skillful to expand these efforts...the largest grant in the history of the foundation.

Projections of all kinds suggest we will fall well short in trained workers...in every industry in the next decade.

We need all hands on deck. We need to expand our training programs and tailor them for people with disabilities and the incarcerated soon to be released.

There's a lot to do, but Colorado has become an early model for the country.

I presented our apprenticeship and Skillful programs to dozens of executives from some of the the nation's largest foundations, who are putting their considerable weight behind solving challenges of the twenty-first century, and building a skills-based workforce.

Our work continues when it comes to higher education.
Last fall, the Colorado Commission on Higher Education presented our updated higher education master plan. We need to increase post secondary credentials by tens of thousands in the next eight years, and erase equity gaps.

Over the last seven years, we've added more than 250 million dollars to support higher education...and we need to do more to help these schools succeed and expand.

They are the engines of our economy.

Yet we're still seeing a seemingly continuous inflation of tuition, fees and books.

We need to redouble efforts around costs, collaboration, and student success.

Purdue University hasn't raised tuition for resident undergraduates in the last six years.

Ambitious moves like that will take some flexibility from this building, too.

We've created a strong foundation for growth.

But no matter how hard we work to incentivize potential and capitalize on this topophilia…Coloradans won't continue to love this place or build their lives here, if they can't move around easily, afford housing and stay connected.

It's about companies like Mayfly, which builds equipment for anglers, and worked with the state to move all their manufacturing to Montrose. They wanted a rural environment with strong broadband.

David Dragoo please stand.

It's great news for rural communities that many jobs can be done anywhere -- but it requires good internet. We need to giddy up!

We went from sixty percent to eighty percent coverage in rural Colorado in the last two years. We'll be at eighty-five percent by the end of this year and one-hundred percent by 2020.

We need your support to get to the finish line...

One of the most essential pieces of infrastructure in our economy is our natural landscape...our clean air and water...the things everyone thinks about when they hear the word "Colorado."

It's one reason why companies of all sorts have been drawn to this place we love.

And the reason why the outdoor recreation show is coming to Denver in a couple weeks along with its one-hundred and ten million dollars in economic impact.

It's why many of our farmers and ranchers, who live on the land, came here, and stay here.

But the responsibility to be good stewards doesn't only fall on rural parts of the state. It rests with all of us.

Xcel has submitted a plan to close two coals plants in Pueblo. This will clean our air and lower costs for consumers - and lead to greater investments that support twenty-first century careers.

What is it the critics don't like? Is it the cleaner air or the lower utility bills?

Clean air matters.

Xcel is also working with Evraz Rocky Mountain Steel -- one of the cleanest steel plants in the world -- to move toward renewable energy while protecting Pueblo's future as a center for steel manufacturing. We need everyone's support to make this a reality.

Pueblo is known as steel city, but soon it could also be "solar and wind city."

Most of us agree that science shows climate change is happening at a significant rate in large part because of humans. But even those of us who disagree on climate change can agree that we need to protect the Colorado environment our grandchildren will grow to love…with a strong economy where they can find jobs.

This includes protecting our water for agriculture. If we don't implement our water plan, rural agricultural communities will be hit first and hardest. We live in a state of open markets. They can never afford to match what front range homeowners pay for domestic water. Having a sustainable source of food--no matter what happens around the world--is an essential foundation for the future of our state. We're one of the great food exporting states and that's a resource we should continue to invest in...rather than put at risk.

The Colorado Water Plan provides a framework, but doesn't include all the funding for the last billion dollars over the next thirty years...we need the support of the General Assembly.

But the cost of water has been a small part of rising new housing prices along much of the front range and elsewhere.

It strains one's ability to love where they live when they can't afford the price of a home or even rent near the jobs and communities they care about.
While many conversations around affordable housing are confined to the front range, the Colorado Housing and Finance Authority has supported housing projects all across Colorado. They've invested over thirteen billion dollars across the state. We should increase our affordable housing tax credits by fifty percent -- these are matching funds that work only with local investment.

I'm forgetting some other type of infrastructure...what is it?

OH right, the multi-billion dollar hole in our roads.

It's about connecting to our communities, our jobs, our markets, and the people we love.

And good infrastructure creates good jobs.

These are facts:

Fort Morgan voters said "yes" to raising their sales tax, so they could get to work repairing their city streets.

And El Paso County voted for new lanes on I-25.

Coloradans WANT to invest in our quality of life--because of our affection for Colorado.

And allow us to pass that affection confidently on to the next generation.

That's why communities are easing traffic with bike lanes and creating walkable areas. And in response to demand from southwest Colorado and other rural parts of the state, Bustang is expanding routes.

It's part of why we partnered with Panasonic to see how we can link vehicles with smart highways and save lives…

...futuristic transportation companies like Arrivo, Otto, and Hyperloop One are making Colorado a testing ground…

But we can't innovate our way out of traffic jams without the resources.

Coloradans spend hundreds of dollars a year extra per car on repairs and operating costs as a result of bad road conditions. We waste dozens of hours a year in traffic.

The cost of asphalt and concrete continue to rise; yet we haven't increased the state gas tax in over twenty-five years.

Not only do we under-fund maintenance by more than two-hundred million dollars per year, but we also have a project list of nine billion dollars. Total needs are estimated to be twenty-five billion dollars by 2040.

And that's all on top of CDOT's existing budget.

Last year, we committed 1.9 billion dollars in financing for roads when we addressed the Hospital Provider Fee. Soon, thanks to Senate Bill 267, we will see a one-hundred million dollar per year commitment in General Fund revenue towards those roads.

Last week we proposed another 148 million dollars from increased revenues.

And then, in the coming years, our proposal for future revenues will continue to dedicate more than 100 million dollars per year on top of that - also from the General Fund.

That's progress. But it still won't be enough to solve our transportation problem, and it doesn't devote a single dollar to our city and county roads and bridges.

We need to be even more ambitious. It's time we look at a long term solution with a sustainable funding source.

There's broad agreement -- across party lines.

Coloradans deserve the opportunity to vote on whether we need new resources and where they should come from.

It's time to go to the voters.

It's tempting to surround ourselves with people who agree with us...it's easy to create an echo chamber…

But we're investing in the unglamorous effort it takes to listen.

Because it works.

In ancient Greece, conversations about the great disagreements of the day took place around big dinners and lasted days. Strangers were welcome.

Conversation would slow down, and unlike a cable TV debate or tweet storm, it allowed a spectrum of viewpoints to emerge.

People invested their time in each other.

Often...fueled by wine. Here in Colorado, we'll stick with beer.

We need to get back to that point.

We need to rebuild these places of convergence. So I'll offer up my office.

We have 364 days left in this administration…

That's an eternity for compromise. It only took eighty-seven days for thirty-nine delegates to create Colorado's Constitution!

And that included: a bill of rights, three-branch state government, bicameral legislature, elected governor, and supreme, district, and county courts.

It's an eternity...but the issues are fiercely urgent. As Martin Luther King Jr. said: "tomorrow is today."

When we invest in education today, we make our kids more competitive tomorrow. When we modernize our infrastructure...we lay the groundwork for the jobs of the future. When we stand up for common sense approaches to health care and get more people covered, we lower costs and save lives for years to come.

These core priorities aren't always glamorous. They don't always get the big headlines.

But that's the Colorado WAY.

This is the Colorado that has lured generations from across the country and around the world. It's why we swell with pride whenever we tell outsiders where we're from...and why they smile in response.

It's what Walter Cheesman, Claude Boettcher and Bruce Randolph worked towards...and what Emily Griffith invested her life in.

There's no place like it

David Mason, who became our poet laureate in 2010, said it best:

"Some come out West to beat the odds and find out the sky's the limit.
Some simply stare--no end to it,
The way you can love a land
And quite a few of the people in it
Give me the sage in sunlight, warm
Even in winter. Give me the moonlit snow
Give me the book cliffs and the farms,
The wild flowers of Colorado."

One of the greatest joys of my life was pitching in baseball games in high school.

You have to be so focused and every atom of your being has to be intent on throwing that pitch to the perfect spot.

But you'll never succeed without a great team behind you.

The joy of these past seven years has been every bit as intense...and just as sweet.

I've been blessed to work with an incredible group of people -- I'd like my cabinet and senior staff to stand and be recognized.

And I include all of you as part of this team…

You are an incredible group as well.

Thank you for your partnership...your friendship...and for deepening our love of this wonderful, wild place.

One last time from this podium: Giddy up!

THE GOVERNMENTAL ENTITY SHALL GIVE NOTICE TO THE AFFECTED COLORADO RESIDENTS UNLESS THE INVESTIGATION DETERMINES THAT THE MISUSE OF INFORMATION ABOUT A COLORADO RESIDENT HAS NOT OCCURRED AND IS NOT REASONABLY LIKELY TO OCCUR. NOTICE MUST BE MADE IN THE MOST EXPEDIENT TIME POSSIBLE AND WITHOUT UNREASONABLE DELAY, BUT NOT LATER THAN THIRTY DAYS AFTER THE DATE OF DETERMINATION THAT A SECURITY BREACH OCCURRED, CONSISTENT WITH THE LEGITIMATE NEEDS OF LAW ENFORCEMENT AND CONSISTENT WITH ANY MEASURES NECESSARY TO DETERMINE THE SCOPE OF THE BREACH AND TO RESTORE THE REASONABLE INTEGRITY OF THE COMPUTERIZED DATA SYSTEM.

(b) EXCEPT AS PROVIDED FOR IN SUBSECTION (2)(c) OF THIS SECTION, IN THE CASE OF A BREACH OF PERSONAL INFORMATION, NOTICE REQUIRED BY THIS SUBSECTION (2) TO AFFECTED COLORADO RESIDENTS MUST INCLUDE, BUT NEED NOT BE LIMITED TO, THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION:

(I) THE DATE, ESTIMATED DATE, OR ESTIMATED DATE RANGE OF THE SECURITY BREACH;

(II) A DESCRIPTION OF THE PERSONAL INFORMATION THAT WAS ACQUIRED OR REASONABLY BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN ACQUIRED AS PART OF THE SECURITY BREACH;

(III) INFORMATION THAT THE RESIDENT CAN USE TO CONTACT THE GOVERNMENTAL ENTITY THAT WAS BREACHED TO INQUIRE ABOUT THE SECURITY BREACH;

(IV) THE TOLL-FREE NUMBERS, ADDRESSES, AND WEBSITES FOR CONSUMER REPORTING AGENCIES;

(V) THE TOLL-FREE NUMBER, ADDRESS, AND WEBSITE FOR THE FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION; AND

(VI) A STATEMENT THAT THE RESIDENT CAN OBTAIN INFORMATION FROM THE FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION AND THE CREDIT REPORTING AGENCIES ABOUT FRAUD ALERTS AND SECURITY FREEZES.

(c) IF NOTICE OF A SECURITY BREACH INVOLVING PERSONAL INFORMATION, AS DEFINED IN SUBSECTION (1)(g)(I)(B) OF THIS SECTION, IS GIVEN NO LATER THAN FIVE DAYS AFTER THE DETERMINATION THAT A SECURITY BREACH OCCURRED, CONSISTENT WITH THE LEGITIMATE NEEDS OF LAW ENFORCEMENT AND CONSISTENT WITH ANY MEASURES NECESSARY TO DETERMINE THE SCOPE OF THE BREACH AND TO RESTORE THE REASONABLE INTEGRITY OF THE COMPUTERIZED DATA SYSTEM, NOTICE MAY BE GIVEN AS FOLLOWS RATHER THAN AS OUTLINED IN SUBSECTION (2)(a) OF THIS SECTION:

(I) THE GOVERNMENTAL ENTITY MAY PROVIDE THE SECURITY BREACH NOTIFICATION IN ELECTRONIC OR OTHER FORM THAT DIRECTS THE PERSON WHOSE PERSONAL INFORMATION HAS BEEN BREACHED TO PROMPTLY CHANGE HIS OR HER PASSWORD AND SECURITY QUESTION OR ANSWER, AS APPLICABLE, OR TO TAKE OTHER STEPS APPROPRIATE TO PROTECT THE ONLINE ACCOUNT WITH THE PERSON OR BUSINESS AND ALL OTHER ONLINE ACCOUNTS FOR WHICH THE PERSON WHOSE PERSONAL INFORMATION HAS BEEN BREACHED THAT USES THE SAME USERNAME OR E-MAIL ADDRESS AND PASSWORD OR SECURITY QUESTION OR ANSWER.

(II) FOR LOG-IN CREDENTIALS OF AN E-MAIL ACCOUNT FURNISHED BY THE GOVERNMENTAL ENTITY, THE GOVERNMENTAL ENTITY SHALL NOT COMPLY WITH THIS SECTION BY PROVIDING THE SECURITY BREACH NOTIFICATION TO THAT E-MAIL ADDRESS, BUT MAY INSTEAD COMPLY WITH THIS SECTION BY PROVIDING NOTICE, AS DEFINED IN SUBSECTION (1)(f) OF THIS SECTION, OR BY CLEAR AND CONSPICUOUS NOTICE DELIVERED TO THE RESIDENT ONLINE WHEN THE RESIDENT IS CONNECTED TO THE ONLINE ACCOUNT FROM AN INTERNET PROTOCOL ADDRESS OR ONLINE LOCATION FROM WHICH THE GOVERNMENTAL ENTITY KNOWS THE RESIDENT CUSTOMARILY ACCESSES THE ACCOUNT.

(d) THE BREACH OF ENCRYPTED OR OTHERWISE SECURED PERSONAL INFORMATION MUST BE DISCLOSED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THIS SECTION IF THE CONFIDENTIAL PROCESS, ENCRYPTION KEY, OR OTHER MEANS TO DECIPHER THE SECURED INFORMATION WAS ALSO ACQUIRED IN THE SECURITY BREACH OR WAS REASONABLY BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN ACQUIRED.

(e) A GOVERNMENTAL ENTITY THAT IS REQUIRED TO PROVIDE NOTICE PURSUANT TO THIS SUBSECTION (2) IS PROHIBITED FROM CHARGING THE COST OF PROVIDING SUCH NOTICE TO INDIVIDUALS.

(f) NOTHING IN THIS SUBSECTION (2) PROHIBITS THE NOTICE DESCRIBED IN THIS SUBSECTION (2) FROM CONTAINING ADDITIONAL INFORMATION, INCLUDING ANY INFORMATION THAT MAY BE REQUIRED BY STATE OR FEDERAL LAW.

(g) IF A GOVERNMENTAL ENTITY USES A THIRD-PARTY SERVICE PROVIDER TO MAINTAIN COMPUTERIZED DATA THAT INCLUDES PERSONAL INFORMATION, THEN THE THIRD-PARTY SERVICE PROVIDER SHALL GIVE NOTICE TO AND COOPERATE WITH THE GOVERNMENTAL ENTITY IN THE EVENT OF A SECURITY BREACH THAT COMPROMISES SUCH COMPUTERIZED DATA, INCLUDING NOTIFYING THE GOVERNMENTAL ENTITY OF ANY SECURITY BREACH AS SOON AS POSSIBLE AND WITHOUT UNREASONABLE DELAY FOLLOWING DISCOVERY OF A SECURITY BREACH, IF MISUSE OF PERSONAL INFORMATION ABOUT A COLORADO RESIDENT OCCURRED OR IS LIKELY TO OCCUR. COOPERATION INCLUDES SHARING WITH THE OWNER OR LICENSEE INFORMATION RELEVANT TO THE SECURITY BREACH; EXCEPT THAT SUCH COOPERATION DOES NOT REQUIRE THE DISCLOSURE OF CONFIDENTIAL BUSINESS INFORMATION OR TRADE SECRETS.

(h) NOTICE REQUIRED BY THIS SECTION MAY BE DELAYED IF A LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCY DETERMINES THAT THE NOTICE WILL IMPEDE A CRIMINAL INVESTIGATION AND THE LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCY HAS NOTIFIED THE GOVERNMENTAL ENTITY THAT OPERATES IN COLORADO NOT TO SEND NOTICE REQUIRED BY THIS SECTION. NOTICE REQUIRED BY THIS SECTION MUST BE MADE IN GOOD FAITH, WITHOUT UNREASONABLE DELAY BUT NOT LATER THAN THIRTY DAYS AFTER THE LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCY DETERMINES THAT NOTIFICATION WILL NO LONGER IMPEDE THE INVESTIGATION AND HAS NOTIFIED THE GOVERNMENTAL ENTITY THAT IT IS APPROPRIATE TO SEND THE NOTICE REQUIRED BY THIS SECTION.

(i) IF A GOVERNMENTAL ENTITY IS REQUIRED TO NOTIFY MORE THAN ONE THOUSAND COLORADO RESIDENTS OF A SECURITY BREACH PURSUANT TO THIS SECTION, THE GOVERNMENTAL ENTITY SHALL ALSO NOTIFY, WITHOUT UNREASONABLE DELAY, ALL CONSUMER REPORTING AGENCIES THAT COMPILE AND MAINTAIN FILES ON CONSUMERS ON A NATIONWIDE BASIS, AS DEFINED BY THE FEDERAL "FAIR CREDIT REPORTING ACT", 15 U.S.C. SEC. 1681a (p), OF THE ANTICIPATED DATE OF THE NOTIFICATION TO THE RESIDENTS AND THE APPROXIMATE NUMBER OF RESIDENTS WHO ARE TO BE NOTIFIED. NOTHING IN THIS SUBSECTION (2)(i) REQUIRES THE GOVERNMENTAL ENTITY TO PROVIDE TO THE CONSUMER REPORTING AGENCY THE NAMES OR OTHER PERSONAL INFORMATION OF SECURITY BREACH NOTICE RECIPIENTS. THIS SUBSECTION (2)(i) DOES NOT APPLY TO A PERSON WHO IS SUBJECT TO TITLE V OF THE FEDERAL "GRAMM-LEACH-BLILEY ACT", 15 U.S.C. SEC. 6801 ET SEQ.

(j) A WAIVER OF THESE NOTIFICATION RIGHTS OR RESPONSIBILITIES IS VOID AS AGAINST PUBLIC POLICY.

(k) (I) THE GOVERNMENTAL ENTITY THAT WAS BREACHED SHALL PROVIDE NOTICE OF ANY SECURITY BREACH TO THE COLORADO ATTORNEY GENERAL AS SOON AS PRACTICABLE BUT NOT LATER THAN THIRTY DAYS AFTER THE DATE OF DETERMINATION THAT A SECURITY BREACH OCCURRED IF THE SECURITY BREACH IS REASONABLY BELIEVED TO HAVE AFFECTED FIVE HUNDRED COLORADO RESIDENTS OR MORE, UNLESS THE INVESTIGATION DETERMINES THAT THE MISUSE OF INFORMATION ABOUT A COLORADO RESIDENT HAS NOT OCCURRED AND IS NOT LIKELY TO OCCUR.

(II) THE BREACH OF ENCRYPTED OR OTHERWISE SECURED PERSONAL INFORMATION MUST BE DISCLOSED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THIS SECTION IF THE CONFIDENTIAL PROCESS, ENCRYPTION KEY, OR OTHER MEANS TO DECIPHER THE SECURED INFORMATION WAS ALSO ACQUIRED OR WAS REASONABLY BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN ACQUIRED IN THE SECURITY BREACH.

(3) Procedures deemed in compliance with notice requirements. (a) PURSUANT TO THIS SECTION, A GOVERNMENTAL ENTITY THAT MAINTAINS ITS OWN NOTIFICATION PROCEDURES AS PART OF AN INFORMATION SECURITY POLICY FOR THE TREATMENT OF PERSONAL INFORMATION AND WHOSE PROCEDURES ARE OTHERWISE CONSISTENT WITH THE TIMING REQUIREMENTS OF THIS SECTION IS IN COMPLIANCE WITH THE NOTICE REQUIREMENTS OF THIS SECTION IF THE GOVERNMENTAL ENTITY NOTIFIES AFFECTED COLORADO CUSTOMERS IN ACCORDANCE WITH ITS POLICIES IN THE EVENT OF A SECURITY BREACH; EXCEPT THAT NOTICE TO THE ATTORNEY GENERAL IS STILL REQUIRED PURSUANT TO SUBSECTION (2)(k) OF THIS SECTION.

(b) A GOVERNMENTAL ENTITY THAT IS REGULATED BY STATE OR FEDERAL LAW AND THAT MAINTAINS PROCEDURES FOR A SECURITY BREACH PURSUANT TO THE LAWS, RULES, REGULATIONS, GUIDANCES, OR GUIDELINES ESTABLISHED BY ITS STATE OR FEDERAL REGULATOR IS IN COMPLIANCE WITH THIS SECTION; EXCEPT THAT NOTICE TO THE ATTORNEY GENERAL IS STILL REQUIRED PURSUANT TO SUBSECTION (2)(k) OF THIS SECTION. ANNOUNCEMENT

February 27, 2018

Members of the Colorado House of Representatives,

As you likely know, I am the official contact person in the investigations involving Rep Lebsock.

I have received a report from the outside investigator that includes 11 allegations by 5 women against Representative Lebsock. All of the allegations have been found to be credible by the external investigator.

I have reviewed the report and found the content of the report to be both serious and egregious in nature. Due to the seriousness of the findings, I am recommending that this body consider, through a Resolution for Expulsion, that Representative Lebsock be expelled from this body. Later today I will be introducing a resolution to that effect and will also be putting a memo on your desks explaining why I am making this recommendation.

As you all know, our policy keeps investigations of this type confidential. However, it also speaks to providing information to relevant parties on a "need to know basis." Because I am asking you all to render a decision in this matter, members of this body have a "need to know" relevant information that may not otherwise be made available under our policy. I will be making redacted copies of the Report available to Members to inspect. No staff, aides or others will be allowed access to the Report and no copies or pictures can be made of the report. I will provide details of where and when members can review the report shortly.

In addition to providing my memo and making the redacted report available to you, we will hold caucus meetings this Thursday, March 1st upon adjournment. We will begin with a joint caucus meeting in Room 271 where I will make a brief presentation. Following the joint meeting, the respective caucuses will proceed to Rooms LSB-A and LSB-B to discuss the matter separately. Each caucus has the opportunity to manage that meeting as it chooses.

Before the Resolution is heard on the House floor, I will provide modified Rules for Consideration of the Resolution to the body. As you know we typically only allow members 2 opportunities and a total of 10 minutes to speak at the well during a resolution. Representative Lebsock may want additional time to address the body and that will be provided to him. Additionally, the modified rules will allow the Speaker and Minority Leader the opportunity to provide up to three additional members time to speak to the matter. Those members will be designated by 9am Friday March 2nd.

As you may know, this body has not considered a resolution for expulsion of a member of the Legislature since 1915 and there is no specific process to consider a resolution of this nature. I have done my best to develop a fair and open process and have consulted with non-partisan legal staff, the Speaker and the Minority Leadership. My hope is this process allows for a judicious but expedient resolution that respects the confidentiality of the people involved.

Respectfully,
(signed)
KC Becker
Majority Leader

House in recess. House reconvened.

PART 2

COLORADO FOOD SYSTEMS ADVISORY COUNCIL

35-1-201. [Formerly 24-37.3-101] Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that:

(a) In September 2009, the federal centers for disease control and prevention reported that no state in the United States was meeting national goals for the amount of fruits and vegetables that Americans should be eating. As a result, the centers for disease control and prevention identified the creation of food policy councils, consisting of multi-stakeholder organizations, as an effective way to support system changes to improve local, regional, and state food economies.

(b) Food councils formed in other states have been effective in bringing together a broad array of food-related government and nongovernment constituencies to employ a food systems approach that facilitates evaluation and program development at every stage of the food process from farm to table;

(c) Formation of a state food advisory council is intended to benefit Colorado agriculturists and others involved in all aspects of agricultural production;

(d) Creation of a state food advisory council will provide increased focus on the economic development opportunities of Colorado's food system along with improvements to agricultural production, community well-being, and public health; AND

(e) Nothing in this ~~article~~ PART 2 is intended to impede, cause harm to, or limit conventionally produced agricultural products or the persons who produce them.

(2) The general assembly further finds that building local, regional, and state food economies will create jobs, stimulate statewide economic development, and circulate money from local food sales within local communities. The general assembly finds that building robust, resilient, and long-term local food economies in Colorado will preserve and protect the natural environment, increase consumer access to fresh, healthy, and safe foods, and provide greater food security for all Coloradans.
